Open House By The Rev. John Leech

Open house on New Year's Day is an old New-York custom. One New Year's Day in Brooklyn, our fellow parishioners opened their homes to friends and neighbors. You came, greeted and were greeted, shared holiday cheer, and went on to the rest of your day – and year.

Open house during the holidays – giving and receiving visits and holiday greetings and good wishes for the New Year – is an older and wider custom. On the Sea Islands of the Carolinas, as I recall J. Herman Blake telling the story, people travel from house to house offering greetings and good wishes.

Wiser than simply sitting on the couch, listening to the forced-air heat, watching the football games and parades, and surfeiting on sliced ham, the custom of holiday open-house reminds us of the giving and receiving we do among each other in all the parts of our lives and all the days of the year.

And then we remember: all we have and all we give comes from God. As David prayed, "all things come from you, and of your own have we given you." (1 Chronicles 29:14b)

This New Year begins a little differently than most: the Feast of the Holy Name (January 1) falls on a Sunday and so takes precedence over the usual readings. We remember the giving of the name of Jesus to our Lord. It was a giving to him – and a gift to us – for what it means is: God saves! The meaning of the holy Child's birth, and his purpose in life, is announced in his very name.

Joshua, the Hebrew form of the name, gives us a hint and an expectation. God delivers! This is the one who will deliver his people. But of course the Savior who arrives is not always the Savior we expect. He has come to deliver his people not merely from human oppressors but from their sins. The good news is that he does – and that we are included among his people.

Jesus leads us, his people, into a new reign of freedom. In his name we move forward into a New Year, rejoicing in God's grace and goodness, bestowed on us in the darkest nights of the year, and renewed on the brightest of days.

God – through Jesus – does more than save us from – he welcomes us to: he not only gets us out of the traps of our own old ways of doing things, he invites us into a new way of life, a new community, a new family of humankind, where all are welcome at his Table.

So holy hospitality – radical welcome – is in the Church's DNA. When we extend a welcome to others – when we share the hospitality of the holy table – when we greet the friend and the sojourner among us – and when we seek out and invite others to share in the hospitality of our fellowship – we are following an old custom, not merely of the New Year, but of the New Testament.

Let's rejoice! And be of good cheer. In this New Year, let's extend a welcome to all in the name of Jesus.

Lift your heart and raise your voice, faithful people, come rejoice: By the Rev. John Leech

When I was sweeping out the Gaithersburg Post Office in my first job after high school, I'd hear the letter carriers listening to oldies radio: "Do you remember when this song was a hit – in 1952?" (Well, no! Though it seems to me we've sung that song before.)

The church is full of discovery – of fresh expressions of faith, new opportunities for witness and service, and unexpected gifts of prayer and celebration, alongside well-worn ways of worship that reveal new dimensions every time we return to them. Together with psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs beloved of old, we find new songs to sing to the Lord.

One of our discoveries in the weeks leading up to Christmas was a new contemporary worship songbook, "Sing Praise: Hymns and Songs for Refreshing Worship" published in London last fall by Hymns Ancient & Modern and the Royal School of Church Music. With that provenance, you'd expect it to have some tradition to it – and it does.

Sing Praise provides songs for all occasions of the church year, from Advent to All Saints - including Candlemas and Ascension as well as other major feasts and events of parish life. What is something of a surprise is that it includes many of the new worship songs we have sung in the past three years, by John L. Bell and Graham Maule from the Iona Community, Kathryn Galloway, Keith and Kristyn Getty, Michael Perry, Brian Wren, the Taizé Community, Bernadette Farrell, Christopher Idle, and Graham Kendrick, as well as new voices from the worldwide Anglican Communion and our sister churches.

Once and future hits include: "Lift your heart", "Jesus, come! For we invite you", "O Christ, the light who came to us on earth", "Jesus is risen, Alleluia!" and "You are my salvation; I trust in you."

The Vestry authorized purchase of these new songbooks with undesignated Memorial Funds. First, though, the singers and musicians will be trying them out. And the songs – many of which will resonate as familiar in message and music – will be printed in upcoming worship service bulletins. Then what we would like to do is invite people to make donations (Memorial if you like) to provide copies for everybody to use. We will all be singing from the same songbooks but the words and music will be modern.

Would you like to come to a potluck and sing-along of Sing Praise songs? Stay tuned!

Happy and Proud Grandma By Phyllis Becker

Last summer I served at the Lake City food bank with several other Hands On members and found it very rewarding. I asked to volunteer for the next Hands On opportunity, Nov. 19th, the Saturday before Thanksgiving and the busiest day of the year at the food bank. I invited my 13 year old grandson to join me and he agreed to participate.

When the day finally arrived, even though I had explained how it was organized, he was still a little apprehensive. He quickly got into giving out what was in his bin and three hours passed very quickly. We both enjoyed our short conversations with each client.

I asked my grandson what was most memorable and he said, "the people look just the same as we do." I asked if he would be interested in volunteering again, "of course," he said. That made me a very proud and happy Grandma.

Anyone can help at the food bank. Please call any Hands On committee member for the next volunteer opportunity. You'll find it very rewarding.

Parish Care Team

By Shirley Wilson

Plans are in progress to present a video on "Senior Gems – Your Guide to Supporting Family Members with Dementia" featuring Teepa Snow. Teepa is an occupational therapist and dementia expert with over 30 years of clinical experience in the field of geriatrics and dementia care. Her teaching includes early warning signs and care options. Date for the showing will be announced later.

Our next scheduled meeting is Thursday, January 5, 2012 in the Parish Hall. All are welcome to join us. Also, please let us know if anyone is in need of our services by contacting Shirley Wilson or Mary Ellen Gardiner.

Or, place hard copy items in the plastic holder marked "Grapevine" on the wall next to the front door in the Narthex. All articles and announcements are subject to editing. Please include your name and contact information.

Welcome Back Old Friends

We will be welcoming some old friends back to 21405 82nd Place West on Sunday, January 18th, 1-4pm. The Western Korean Church will be back to celebrate a lifetime of ministry with Pastor Matthew Kim as he retires from active pastoral service. Please offer your prayers of support and thanksgiving. For more information contact James Moon at 206-708-0058.

Life in the Body of Christ* - If You Knew Susie

By Shirley Wilson

Susie Nichols has been an active member of St. Alban's since 1979. She was Senior Warden for two years during the search process for a new pastor and for the past three years she has served admirably as our Treasurer. It's time we get to know Susie on a more personal level. She was raised on the Olympic Peninsula. Until the age of eleven, she lived in Port Townsend and then moved to Port Angeles until 1957. She had one brother, ten years older who is now deceased. She and her mother went to the local Presbyterian Church every Sunday so Susie grew up knowing the Lord. After her divorce in 1980 she lived in Wedgewood, where she raised her two sons, Dan and David. Through her involvement in Boy Scouts she met Dan Kidd. He was Lisa's (our Parish Administrator) stepfather and a member of St. Alban's in those days. Susie was church hunting at the time so Dan convinced her to give St. Alban's a try. On the first Sunday she attended, there was an announcement asking for volunteers for Altar Guild. Susie came forth and has been involved ever since. At one time she served as Directress.

Susie and Jim met when they were seniors in high school. They dated and even walked together at graduation. But afterward they went their separate ways. Jim settled in Southern California so they had no contact for seventeen years. While working with her high school reunion committee Susie was able to contact Jim to invite him to the reunion. This began a friendship that has never ended. Susie says, "If you want to have a good marriage, marry your best friend." They kept in contact over the phone until Jim proposed on St. Patrick's Day 1987. The week after Holy Week Susie flew down to Carson City to meet Jim and they were married that same afternoon. She then flew back home and Jim followed her two months later. Their children were delighted at the union. Jim's daughter, Kory, was happy to have two new brothers, one younger and one older.

In 1980, Susie went to work at Seafirst Bank (now Bank of America) and stayed for twenty years. After the last merger she was on the bank's transition team, but was happy to retire after that project was completed. That was eleven years ago. She now enjoys her free time doing counted cross stitch, reading, yard work (as she is able) and collecting Christmas mice. She and Jim have ten grandchildren who range from four months to twenty three years. They also have two great grandchildren.

I hope you now know Susie a little better and can say, as the old song goes, "Oh, oh, oh, what a gal!" We are all grateful to her for her years of service at St. Alban's and especially for doing such a great job as our Treasurer these past three years. Thank you, Susie, for a job well done.

Just a side note: Susie's legal name is Rose Marie. Susie is strictly a nickname given to her by her family before she was born.

A Feast of Light By The Rev. John Leech

Candlemas, if you look it up, has lots of traditions and celebrations tied to it. For one, if you got the prize in the Epiphany cake, you get to bring the tamales and menudo to the feast on Candlemas (Candelaria). Another custom is to take down the last of the Christmas holiday decorations the night before. And the last of the Christmas revels cease. It's a quarter of the way to summer already. But it all comes back to Jesus. Our Lord, presented in the Temple by Mary and Joseph, is greeted by the prophet Anna and the righteous, devout Simeon. At last! At last! they say. The light that lightens all the world is come among us at last. Now I can rest my soul and go in peace. And so Candlemas, the feast of the blessing of the lights, is the feast of the Presentation, a major feast, a feast of our Lord. It is more than the end. It is the last feast of the great season begun the first Sunday of Advent, with its highest feast the Nativity of our Lord (Christmas). It is more than the end; it is a turning point. It is the beginning of something new, the beginnings of the dawning in our minds and hearts and lives in, yes, ordinary time, of just what that great season means: the light has come and lives among us. It is the light of all. Hallelujah! Now we go forth into the world, sent forward with the light shining before us on our path. Illumine our way, O Lord: may your Word be a lamp to our feet and light on the way. Amen.

We celebrate the feast of the Presentation, Candlemas, this year (with the bishop's permission) on the last Sunday in January.

Church Humor - Higher Power

A Sunday school teacher said to her children, 'We have been learning how powerful kings and queens were Bible times. But, there is a higher power. Can anybody tell me what it is? One child blurted out, 'Aces!'

Memorial Funds By Maryellen Young on behalf of the Planned Giving Committee

At the Annual Meeting there was some discussion about Memorial Funds. I thought it might be helpful to review how money is donated to Memorial Funds, where it is invested and how it is used. Next month we'll talk about the Endowment Fund.

Donations:

Money can be donated to the Memorial Fund either in memory of someone who has passed away or as part of one's estate plan. These donations can either be designated or undesignated. Undesignated funds give the church the most flexibility with how the money is used. However, sometimes the money can be designated to reflect the interest of the person who passed away. Recent examples would be in support of youth in memory of Dee Tugby or Altar linens in memory of Thelma DeLong. When money is donated in memory of someone, the family is notified of who makes donations so that acknowledgements can be sent.

Investments:

Money given to Memorial Funds is initially put in the church's savings account in a sub-account identified as Memorial Funds. For example, in 1989, approximately $10,000 of Memorial Funds was invested in the Diocesan Investment Fund so that this money could earn a better interest rate. As of November 2011 this fund is worth about $48,000. There also is almost $4,300 of memorial money in the regular savings account. Money in the savings account provides flexibility for using the money for small projects.

Using Memorial Funds:

Memorial Funds designated for a specific purpose are used for that purpose. In 2008 the Vestry approved Undesignated Memorial Fund Spending Guidelines. These guidelines state:

The purpose of this Fund: Use to carry on the mission of the church.

These monies should be used for things such as:

- Permanent acquisitions of the church
- Capital improvements, lasting at least a year or longer
- Non-operating budget items. Repair and Maintenance should be budget items and are not covered by Memorial Funds.
- Items that enhance the church and its mission
- Specific items can be purchased in memory of a specific person, but not required
- May have a plaque or designation, but not required
- Expenditures from this fund are approved by vote of vestry

Undesignated money from the Memorial Funds have been used for such things as the Baptismal Font, Books of Common Prayer, hymnals, the sound system, altar linens and silver, vestments and traveling communion sets. During 2011, the Vestry set aside $20,000 of the memorial money invested in the Diocesan Investment Fund as seed money for the future roof replacement project.

Leaving memorial gifts are a wonderful way of recognizing the importance of the church in the life of a parishioner and furthering the mission of the church. If you have any questions, please contact Father John or the Planned Giving Committee.

Holden Village 2012

By Maryellen Young

Plans are beginning to be made to go to Holden Village next year during the week of August 12-18th. It's not too soon to save the date and join us. Last year Mary Fowler and JoAn Andenes joined Barbara Lagozzino, Reilly Mannery and Maryellen Young. For more information about Holden go to www.holdenvillage.org. This year will be the last time to experience Holden for awhile as the focus for the next couple years will be on mine clean-up.

Holden Village, located at the north end of Lake Chelan, is a center for renewal, a Lutheran ministry welcoming all people into the wilderness to be called, equipped and sent by God. While at Holden, you are invited to find your own pace and pursue your own unique renewal and interests. Each week notable presenters lead sessions in an array of disciplines.

Last summer there was a wonderful Bible study led by a young couple as well as a wide variety of other classes relating to such topics as church mission, world events and culture, the environment and more. There are looms to use, a potter's wheel, wonderful food and ice cream, an old fashioned bowling alley where pins are set manually, hikes, a wonderful library, interesting people and much more. Holden also offers programs for children and is a great place for families. Our time at Holden is a celebration of life together in the Light of God's love.

Hands On Activities By Maryellen Young

St. Alban's Hands On activities provide us an opportunity to be good stewards of the gifts God has given us by sharing our time, our money, our food and cooking for others in need. These activities are a chance for us to reach out and share God's love ministering to the needs of the community beyond St. Alban's doors.

Compass Center Move-In Kit: The Compass Center has put together a list of items that they hope to provide residents as they transition to independent living. During the month of January we will be collecting items to put together one or more Move-In Kits. See the list in the Parish Hall with a signup sheet so we know what items are being collected. At the Annual Meeting, Maryellen Young shared the fun she had taking advantage of the Christmas sales to start putting together a kit. Sales will continue in January so this is great timing to work on this project. If you don't feel like shopping but would like to contribute money, just note on your check Hands On Move-In Kit. At our last dinner we learned that there will be about 8 residents transitioning in the near future. Of course the Compass Center is also willing to receive gently used items separate from the Move-in Kits.

Compass Center Dinner: The next Compass Center Dinner will be Sunday March 25th

Food Bank: The next Food Bank opportunity will be Saturday, February 25th.

2010 Annual Report: During 2010 we volunteered at the Lake City Food Bank 4 times with 11 people participating one or more times. We served 3 dinners at the Compass Center with 29 people donating food, money or time to make these dinners possible. We also collected socks and donated household items for the Compass Center, purchased books for Cedar Valley, had a Reading with Helki program, donated school supplies and helped get a classroom ready for the start of school. Thanks to everyone for all of your support of the Hands On ministry.

We welcome anyone interested in outreach to join us at our meetings. Our next meeting is Thursday, March 1st at Maryellen Young's home. Call 425-776-2461 if you need directions. We are always looking for ways that we can reach out to those around us that appeal to the interests of our community and we need your suggestions.

Hands On Compass Center Veterans Day Dinner.

Calendar Notes (looking ahead)

February 3-5, 2012 - Vestry Retreat at Camp Huston

St. Alban's Episcopal Church

MINUTES

Annual Meeting – December 4, 2011

The annual meeting was opened at 10:18 a.m. by Father John with devotional prayers. Forty-eight members of the congregation were present.

The departing Vestry members – Karen Ford, Barbara Hatt and Sarah Sweeney – were introduced, as well as convention delegates and other St. Alban's members who have served in various capacities during 2011. Father John expressed his and the parish's thanks to those who have dedicated their time and efforts to St. Alban's.

Karen Ford gave her report as the Senior Warden, as well as discussed the qualifications for being a "member in good standing." Karen indicated we need to elect three full-term (three years) members to the Vestry. As there were no nominations, the Vestry will discuss appointing the three members at its regular meeting on December 6, 2011.

Two convention delegates (one male and one female) also needed to be elected to fill two-year terms. Phil McClelland and Mona Carter were nominated. Karen Ford resigned her second year as an alternate delegate, and Robin McClelland volunteered to serve the one year. The three nominees were elected by acclamation. One male alternate delegate needs to be appointed by Vestry.

Annual Reports were given verbally – Diocesan Convention (Emily Bee, Delegate), Youth & Young Adults (Ben Johnson), and Boy Scout Troop 300 (John Bee I). There was no report from Newcomers. Written reports are attached to these Minutes for Junior Warden, Parish Care, Sunday School, Hands-On, St. Monica's Altar Guild, Endowment Fund, Episcopal Church Women and Adult Christian Education.

Karen Ford reviewed the Stewardship Committee's efforts and its emphasis on giving back to God all the time and not just during the annual pledge drive. The committee has adopted Lance Ousley's template for year-round giving which was presented to the Vestry by Maryellen Young.

St. Alban's financial status was reviewed by Treasurer Susie Nichols, who presented the proposed 2012 budget. Pledges totaling $131,000 have been received from 64 parishioners. This leaves a current shortage of $23,000 on the 2012 budget. Susie is retiring as the treasurer at the end of this year. In the future, the Parish Administrator, Lisa Coale, will perform the bookkeeping. A treasurer is needed to provide oversight of parish finances: to prepare the budget, approve expenditures and prepare regular reports for the Vestry. Vestry and the congregation gave Susie heartfelt thanks for her dedication and hard work as treasurer.

Father John adjourned the meeting at 11:28 a.m. with a prayer.

How Can We Sing a New Song?
A workshop featuring Dent Davidson

Missioner for Arts and Liturgy

January 14, 2012, 10am-4pm
St. Andrew's Church
111 NE 80th Street, Seattle
Cost: $10

Dent will offer a day-long workshop on new hymns in the Episcopal Church on Jan. 14 from 10 am to 4 pm at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in Seattle. Dent served as choir master at St. Thomas', Medina, as a associate music director at St. Mark's Cathedral, Seattle. He is presently Musician to the House of Bishops as well as the Missioner for Arts and Liturgy for the Diocese of Chicago.

The workshop is part of a Clergy Renewal Program designed by Peter Strimer, rector of St. Andrew's, to expand the church's use of music in many forms. Peter will be on sabbatical studying church music in Africa, France and Chicago while the congregation begins using new hymnals in its Sunday worship. The Lilly Endowment is underwriting most of the cost of the workshop, so participants only pay $10 for the day's lunch. Those who attend will take home a valuable resource packet from the day. Registration is limited to 120 people.

Everyone in the Diocese of Olympia is invited by St. Andrew's to join them for this lively, participatory event. To register, visit www.saintandrewsseattle.org.
