Jesus often used more than one story to talk about the same thing. To talk about the end of the world and the beginning of the Messiah's Kingdom, he often told stories about a wedding party. But he also told stories about a king or a master who went away and gave his servants a job to do until he came back.

The Bible tells us that Jesus will come to be our King and our Judge. This can be a very scary idea, because we know we have disobeyed God, and wasted what God has given us. But the Bible also says that Jesus has saved us, and made us right with God. As long as we trust him, we have nothing to be scared of!
